Farm Bureau Notes By Sam Jordan Subject Bees (Con't from last week.)

We all know that one thing, but we will also admit that when that little event took place we were not attending wholly to our own business.

Bee keeping has not been my job, but last spring I found a fine swarm, put them in a box and the next day bought a fine hive for them. They seemed contented and so far as I know they were doing all right and were busy as all good bees should be. I fed them sugar, taking a part of our own family allowance. They seemed so gentle, and I had learned to be very fond of them, so when late fall came, I thought best to ask some body how to proceed for winter. Mr. Fidler came over, took a look into the hive and said "Well, You'll have to kill them." I asked him why, and he told me they were badly diseased with "European Foul Brood." I asked him what that is, and he explained. You know bee keeping had not been my job. He told me that late as the season was, nothing could be done.

As a result, I closed the hive that night, and poured some cholorform into the hive, and candidly, I never hated to have to destroy life so much as in that case. Those lives that were so dutiful, playing their part well, had been brought to an untimely end simply by my ignorance of their needs.

Had the bad results only ended with a handful of dead bees and a good empty hive in the smokehouse, that would not perhaps amounted to much, but it was beyond any doubt, the means of spreading the disease among my neighbors bees, which I should not consider that I had any right to do.

So let us come to the meeting as by an understanding of a few things this industry can be made profitable, not only to the bee owner but to orchardists who do not keep bees.

A Letter.

"Last year I put out 18 acres of cane and soybeans, seeds mixed in planter boxes, planted them with planter, cultivated twice, and harvested with a binder. Have fed 475 sheep on this since December 25, 1918, and will have enough to run from 20 or 25 of March. This is the most satisfactory crop I ever grew." Another that should prove good would be Sudan grass and soybeans.

The crop may be planted in rows, with corn planter and cultivated or drilled with grain drill.

With the former method it should take about 4 pounds Sudan and 15 pounds Soys, and preferably double rowed.

Drilled with grain drill use about 12 pounds Sudan and 40 to 60 pounds Soys per acre.

Sorghum and soys may also be drilled solidly.

In any event, work ground well ahead of seeding so as to destroy weeds as completely as possible.

Try some oats and rape, or barley or rape for spring pig and calf pasture.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glitters with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

Bets $500 He Can Eat 52 Eggs In 5 Minutes

Montgomery City, Mo., March 8.—Louis Gill, well known here, who claims to be the champion egg eater, issued a challenge today to wager $50 to $500 that he can eat fifty-two hen eggs in five minutes.

He made his egg-eating record while running a lunch house in Kansas, before becoming a butcher of this city. He says fifty eggs make him a fairly good meal, and refuses to sit down to a four-egg lunch.

Dr. B. Hughes will never again mention his capacity for 12 or 15 eggs at a meal, but Gills boast will not destroy his appetite for hens eggs.
